

BIGGER AND BETTER

PRESENTING THE NEW CHEVROLET SIX

Today the Chevrolet Motor Company presents the Bigger and Better Chevrolet Six, a new model of the six-cylinder car which has enjoyed such wide popularity.

In both the chassis and body of this new six-cylinder Chevrolet you will find expressed, as never before, Chevrolet's well-known policy of progress through constant improvement.

For—without departing from the basic features which have won the enthusiastic approval of over 2,000,000 buyers—Chevrolet has produced a six-cylinder car which represents an entirely new standard of quality, value and refinement in the low-price field.

Your first impression of the new Chevrolet will be one of striking fleetness, grace and beauty. The car is longer, lower and modernly smart. The radiator has been deepened and its appearance enhanced by a curving tie-bar and chrome-plated parabolic headlamps. The long hood lines sweep back unbroken to blend gracefully into the new Fisher bodies. And never was Fisher's fine craftsmanship more evident than in the bodies of the new Chevrolet Six!

Not only are the bodies roomier and more comfortable, but as you study them you will discover many gratifying new features and pleasing refinements—many examples of that painstaking attention to detail which is the basis of true quality.

Mechanically, too, the new Chevrolet Six is a better automobile. The wheelbase is longer. The frame is stronger. The steering is easier. The clutch is more durable. There is a smoother, quieter, easier shifting transmission. In fact, wherever finer materials and more advanced design could add to Chevrolet quality or increase Chevrolet's traditional economy of ownership—improvement has been made. See the new Chevrolet Six—and you will agree that here is the Great American Value!

» » AT NEW LOW PRICES « «

Chevrolet has long been one of the lowest priced cars in the world. Yet due to the savings of volume production and increased manufacturing efficiency, the Bigger and Better

Chevrolet is offered at new low prices. Come in today. See and drive the new Chevrolet Six. Learn the new economy of owning a modern, fine quality, six-cylinder automobile.

The Phaeton	$510	The Coach	$545	Sport Coupe with rumble seat	$575
The Roadster	$475	Standard Coupe	$535	Standard Sedan	$635
Sport Roadster with rumble seat	$495	Standard Five-Window Coupe	$545	Special Sedan	$650

SPECIAL EQUIPMENT EXTRA
Chevrolet Trucks from $355 to $695. All prices f. o. b. Flint, Michigan

NEW

SIX

CHEVROLET

IT'S WISE TO CHOOSE A SIX

MOSES MOTOR Co.

Appomattox, Va.

Times-Virginian
IN THE HEART OF DARK TOBACCO BELT
Appomattox, Virginia

Established 1892

GOODMAN & CREWS
Publishers

Subscription $1.50 Per Year

Mrs. Ned A. Wagers,
Lynchburg Advertising Representative

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Appomattox, Virginia, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879. All communications for publication should reach the office not later than Wednesday morning each week.

The columns of the Times-Virginian are open for the discussion of any subject affecting the public good.

Please Address All Correspondence To The Times-Virginian, Appomattox, Virginia.

Why Organization?

Organization in every phase of human activity has become the accepted way of living now-a-days, but the past week in Appomattox with its two farm meetings, one to organize marketing, the other to organize crop production, with the Red Cross drive under way, the clinic organized for health, the promise of a union service of the churches with plans to formulate plans for a more intensified organization of charity, and a parent-teachers meeting scheduled besides, might cause us to ask, if we had time to pause in the midst of all this systemization, just where this organization mania is heading and what it accomplishes.

So much have mass meetings, conventions, and conferences become a part of our daily routine, it is truly remarkable that we are able to start out day without first holding a general discussion on which is the wrong side of the bed, or a topic of similar instructive value.

And yet, overorganization as present day communities must at times with their thousand and one different activities ready to usurp our time, when we question where to start eliminating, there are few which we are willing to sacrifice.

The worth of organization lies not only in the mutual good which the organized derive from the exchange of opinions and experiences, but also in the incentive it gives us to seek improved methods of living.

One of the most outstanding examples of constructive work done by an organization in this community is the program carried out by the Agricultural Advisory Council, of the county. The projects sponsored by this group are not only instructive, but more than that, are very definite builders of prosperity.

All efficiency, and in this day efficiency has become an ultimate goal, must of necessity involve complication. The binder is more intricate than the scythe. Organized living at times may be burdensome, but nothing is accomplished without effort.

Gloom Or Prosperity
With only a limited business experience we are becoming firmly convinced that nine-tenths of conditions in business that represent depression or its opposite, prosperity, are purely psychological.

An example that comes close home may serve as an illustration. The Enterprise did the largest gross business during the month of October it has enjoyed yet in the entire history of the organization. We simply could not remember how depressed business was. There was no trick or magic about it.

Surely all the good breaks were not on our side, and any other forms of business can do the same. If trade is below par it is the time to promote, promote, promote. An automobile that is going well does not particularly need to be pushed. But one that is stuck in a mudhole needs a strong shoulder to the wheel.

Above all keep your money working, producing and providing business for others. Only old ladies and infants should be advised to keep it sleeping in safe securities.

The business is here and now for those who go after it. It is only the timid and the inactive who are going to the wall.

—Bath County Enterprise.

25 YEARS AGO

IN THE APPOMATTOX & BUCKINGHAM TIMES

(Nov. 15, 1905)

Dr. Winn is conducting a series of meetings at the Presbyterian Church this week.

Mrs. J. W. Gills, of Farmville, is on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Gills, of this County.

Mrs. F. T. Akers, of Christiansburg, is with her mother, Mrs. Henrietta Cheatham, who is still sick at her daughter's in Lynchburg.

Rev. H. W. Dunkley goes to Petersburg and W. L. Murphy comes to Appomattox Circuit.

West Buckingham. W. P. Province, Buckingham, S. H. Johnson, W. E. Bullard goes to South Lunenburg.

Hon. J. R. Horsley has no opposition for clerk. He received 675 votes.

Mr. R. T. Fishman and wife have moved to town and will occupy Mr. S. P. Coleman's house.

Judge William Smith, of Cumberland, was in the village Monday.

Hebron—Miss Fanny Taylor has been confined to her bed for some time, but not a serious case. We hope to see her bright face out soon.

Miss Annie Thornhill is visiting in Lynchburg.

Dr. Whitehead has a located among us and is boarding at Mr. Peter Stratton's.

Mr. Wesley Chick and family will move in a few days. We will miss them in both society and church.

Evergreen—Mr. and Mrs. Tom Evans have moved to Amherst County.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McDearson, of Bayre, attended the funeral of his little nephew, James Cawthon on last Wednesday.

Church Bulletin

Liberty Baptist Church

(W. M. Thompson, Minister)
9:30 A. M. Graded Sunday School. Classes for all ages.

11:00 Morning Worship with sermon by the pastor.

7:00 P. M. The B. Y. P. U. will meet.

7:45 P. M. Union Thanksgiving services at the Presbyterian Church. All of our people are cordially invited. Strangers and visitors welcome at all services.

Appomattox Circuit
Methodist Church, So.

(E. L. Lewis, Pastor)
Services Sunday, Nov. 23, 1930; Trinity, 11 A. M. Subject, "Things Most Worth While."

Bethel 3 P. M. "Life's Greatest Ambition."

You are invited to worship with us at these services.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS
Appomattox, Va.

I will be at the following places on the dates and hours named for the purpose of collecting 1930 taxes:

Bent Creek, November 11th 10 A. M. to 2 P. M.; Stonewall, Nov. 13th, 10 A. M. to 2 P. M.; Vera, Nov. 17th, 10 A. M. to 2 P. M.; Hixburg, Nov. 19, 10 A. M. to 2 P. M.; Spout Spring, Nov. 21st, 10 A. M. to 3 P. M.; Evergreen, Nov. 24, 10 A. M. to 3 P. M.; Pamplin, Nov. 26th, 10 A. M. to 4 P. M.

The remainder of the time at my office in The Bank of Appomattox.

Since taxes are a first lien on your personal property as well as real estate, it is most important that you get your taxes paid before Dec. 5, 1930 when a 5% penalty is added to all unpaid bills.

It is always good business to pay your taxes before the penalty is added, but is especially so this year in view of the business depression as it costs you from 10% to 20% more to pay your taxes than it does to pay them now.

In order to meet the running expenses of the schools, roads, and other current expenses of your County promptly, and to save yourselves the additional expenses caused by delay, I hope that there will be few tax payers who will allow their taxes to go on penalty.

Statements have been mailed to all taxpayers.

Yours very truly
R. L. Burke, County Treasurer.
51-11-30

Times-Virginian
IN THE HEART OF DARK TOBACCO BELT
Appomattox, Virginia

Established 1892

GOODMAN & CREWS
Publishers

Subscription $1.50 Per Year

Mrs. Ned A. Wagers,
Lynchburg Advertising Representative

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Appomattox, Virginia, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879. All communications for publication should reach the office not later than Wednesday morning each week.

The columns of the Times-Virginian are open for the discussion of any subject affecting the public good.

Please Address All Correspondence To The Times-Virginian, Appomattox, Virginia.

Why Organization?

Organization in every phase of human activity has become the accepted way of living now-a-days, but the past week in Appomattox with its two farm meetings, one to organize marketing, the other to organize crop production, with the Red Cross drive under way, the clinic organized for health, the promise of a union service of the churches with plans to formulate plans for a more intensified organization of charity, and a parent-teachers meeting scheduled besides, might cause us to ask, if we had time to pause in the midst of all this systemization, just where this organization mania is heading and what it accomplishes.

So much have mass meetings, conventions, and conferences become a part of our daily routine, it is truly remarkable that we are able to start out day without first holding a general discussion on which is the wrong side of the bed, or a topic of similar instructive value.

And yet, overorganization as present day communities must at times with their thousand and one different activities ready to usurp our time, when we question where to start eliminating, there are few which we are willing to sacrifice.

The worth of organization lies not only in the mutual good which the organized derive from the exchange of opinions and experiences, but also in the incentive it gives us to seek improved methods of living.

One of the most outstanding examples of constructive work done by an organization in this community is the program carried out by the Agricultural Advisory Council, of the county. The projects sponsored by this group are not only instructive, but more than that, are very definite builders of prosperity.

All efficiency, and in this day efficiency has become an ultimate goal, must of necessity involve complication. The binder is more intricate than the scythe. Organized living at times may be burdensome, but nothing is accomplished without effort.

Gloom Or Prosperity
With only a limited business experience we are becoming firmly convinced that nine-tenths of conditions in business that represent depression or its opposite, prosperity, are purely psychological.

An example that comes close home may serve as an illustration. The Enterprise did the largest gross business during the month of October it has enjoyed yet in the entire history of the organization. We simply could not remember how depressed business was. There was no trick or magic about it.

Surely all the good breaks were not on our side, and any other forms of business can do the same. If trade is below par it is the time to promote, promote, promote. An automobile that is going well does not particularly need to be pushed. But one that is stuck in a mudhole needs a strong shoulder to the wheel.

Above all keep your money working, producing and providing business for others. Only old ladies and infants should be advised to keep it sleeping in safe securities.

The business is here and now for those who go after it. It is only the timid and the inactive who are going to the wall.

—Bath County Enterprise.

Why Organization?

Organization in every phase of human activity has become the accepted way of living now-a-days, but the past week in Appomattox with its two farm meetings, one to organize marketing, the other to organize crop production, with the Red Cross drive under way, the clinic organized for health, the promise of a union service of the churches with plans to formulate plans for a more intensified organization of charity, and a parent-teachers meeting scheduled besides, might cause us to ask, if we had time to pause in the midst of all this systemization, just where this organization mania is heading and what it accomplishes.

So much have mass meetings, conventions, and conferences become a part of our daily routine, it is truly remarkable that we are able to start out day without first holding a general discussion on which is the wrong side of the bed, or a topic of similar instructive value.

And yet, overorganization as present day communities must at times with their thousand and one different activities ready to usurp our time, when we question where to start eliminating, there are few which we are willing to sacrifice.

The worth of organization lies not only in the mutual good which the organized derive from the exchange of opinions and experiences, but also in the incentive it gives us to seek improved methods of living.

One of the most outstanding examples of constructive work done by an organization in this community is the program carried out by the Agricultural Advisory Council, of the county. The projects sponsored by this group are not only instructive, but more than that, are very definite builders of prosperity.

All efficiency, and in this day efficiency has become an ultimate goal, must of necessity involve complication. The binder is more intricate than the scythe. Organized living at times may be burdensome, but nothing is accomplished without effort.

Gloom Or Prosperity
With only a limited business experience we are becoming firmly convinced that nine-tenths of conditions in business that represent depression or its opposite, prosperity, are purely psychological.

An example that comes close home may serve as an illustration. The Enterprise did the largest gross business during the month of October it has enjoyed yet in the entire history of the organization. We simply could not remember how depressed business was. There was no trick or magic about it.

Surely all the good breaks were not on our side, and any other forms of business can do the same. If trade is below par it is the time to promote, promote, promote. An automobile that is going well does not particularly need to be pushed. But one that is stuck in a mudhole needs a strong shoulder to the wheel.

Above all keep your money working, producing and providing business for others. Only old ladies and infants should be advised to keep it sleeping in safe securities.

The business is here and now for those who go after it. It is only the timid and the inactive who are going to the wall.

—Bath County Enterprise.

Why Organization?

Organization in every phase of human activity has become the accepted way of living now-a-days, but the past week in Appomattox with its two farm meetings, one to organize marketing, the other to organize crop production, with the Red Cross drive under way, the clinic organized for health, the promise of a union service of the churches with plans to formulate plans for a more intensified organization of charity, and a parent-teachers meeting scheduled besides, might cause us to ask, if we had time to pause in the midst of all this systemization, just where this organization mania is heading and what it accomplishes.

So much have mass meetings, conventions, and conferences become a part of our daily routine, it is truly remarkable that we are able to start out day without first holding a general discussion on which is the wrong side of the bed, or a topic of similar instructive value.

And yet, overorganization as present day communities must at times with their thousand and one different activities ready to usurp our time, when we question where to start eliminating, there are few which we are willing to sacrifice.

The worth of organization lies not only in the mutual good which the organized derive from the exchange of opinions and experiences, but also in the incentive it gives us to seek improved methods of living.

One of the most outstanding examples of constructive work done by an organization in this community is the program carried out by the Agricultural Advisory Council, of the county. The projects sponsored by this group are not only instructive, but more than that, are very definite builders of prosperity.

All efficiency, and in this day efficiency has become an ultimate goal, must of necessity involve complication. The binder is more intricate than the scythe. Organized living at times may be burdensome, but nothing is accomplished without effort.

Gloom Or Prosperity
With only a limited business experience we are becoming firmly convinced that nine-tenths of conditions in business that represent depression or its opposite, prosperity, are purely psychological.

An example that comes close home may serve as an illustration. The Enterprise did the largest gross business during the month of October it has enjoyed yet in the entire history of the organization. We simply could not remember how depressed business was. There was no trick or magic about it.

Surely all the good breaks were not on our side, and any other forms of business can do the same. If trade is below par it is the time to promote, promote, promote. An automobile that is going well does not particularly need to be pushed. But one that is stuck in a mudhole needs a strong shoulder to the wheel.

Above all keep your money working, producing and providing business for others. Only old ladies and infants should be advised to keep it sleeping in safe securities.

The business is here and now for those who go after it. It is only the timid and the inactive who are going to the wall.

—Bath County Enterprise.

Why Organization?

Organization in every phase of human activity has become the accepted way of living now-a-days, but the past week in Appomattox with its two farm meetings, one to organize marketing, the other to organize crop production, with the Red Cross drive under way, the clinic organized for health, the promise of a union service of the churches with plans to formulate plans for a more intensified organization of charity, and a parent-teachers meeting scheduled besides, might cause us to ask, if we had time to pause in the midst of all this systemization, just where this organization mania is heading and what it accomplishes.

So much have mass meetings, conventions, and conferences become a part of our daily routine, it is truly remarkable that we are able to start out day without first holding a general discussion on which is the wrong side of the bed, or a topic of similar instructive value.

And yet, overorganization as present day communities must at times with their thousand and one different activities ready to usurp our time, when we question where to start eliminating, there are few which we are willing to sacrifice.

The worth of organization lies not only in the mutual good which the organized derive from the exchange of opinions and experiences, but also in the incentive it gives us to seek improved methods of living.

One of the most outstanding examples of constructive work done by an organization in this community is the program carried out by the Agricultural Advisory Council, of the county. The projects sponsored by this group are not only instructive, but more than that, are very definite builders of prosperity.

All efficiency, and in this day efficiency has become an ultimate goal, must of necessity involve complication. The binder is more intricate than the scythe. Organized living at times may be burdensome, but nothing is accomplished without effort.

Gloom Or Prosperity
With only a limited business experience we are becoming firmly convinced that nine-tenths of conditions in business that represent depression or its opposite, prosperity, are purely psychological.

An example that comes close home may serve as an illustration. The Enterprise did the largest gross business during the month of October it has enjoyed yet in the entire history of the organization. We simply could not remember how depressed business was. There was no trick or magic about it.

Surely all the good breaks were not on our side, and any other forms of business can do the same. If trade is below par it is the time to promote, promote, promote. An automobile that is going well does not particularly need to be pushed. But one that is stuck in a mudhole needs a strong shoulder to the wheel.

Above all keep your money working, producing and providing business for others. Only old ladies and infants should be advised to keep it sleeping in safe securities.

The business is here and now for those who go after it. It is only the timid and the inactive who are going to the wall.

—Bath County Enterprise.

Why Organization?

Organization in every phase of human activity has become the accepted way of living now-a-days, but the past week in Appomattox with its two farm meetings, one to organize marketing, the other to organize crop production, with the Red Cross drive under way, the clinic organized for health, the promise of a union service of the churches with plans to formulate plans for a more intensified organization of charity, and a parent-teachers meeting scheduled besides, might cause us to ask, if we had time to pause in the midst of all this systemization, just where this organization mania is heading and what it accomplishes.

So much have mass meetings, conventions, and conferences become a part of our daily routine, it is truly remarkable that we are able to start out day without first holding a general discussion on which is the wrong side of the bed, or a topic of similar instructive value.

And yet, overorganization as present day communities must at times with their thousand and one different activities ready to usurp our time, when we question where to start eliminating, there are few which we are willing to sacrifice.

The worth of organization lies not only in the mutual good which the organized derive from the exchange of opinions and experiences, but also in the incentive it gives us to seek improved methods of living.

One of the most outstanding examples of constructive work done by an organization in this community is the program carried out by the Agricultural Advisory Council, of the county. The projects sponsored by this group are not only instructive, but more than that, are very definite builders of prosperity.

All efficiency, and in this day efficiency has become an ultimate goal, must of necessity involve complication. The binder is more intricate than the scythe. Organized living at times may be burdensome, but nothing is accomplished without effort.

Gloom Or Prosperity
With only a limited business experience we are becoming firmly convinced that nine-tenths of conditions in business that represent depression or its opposite, prosperity, are purely psychological.

An example that comes close home may serve as an illustration. The Enterprise did the largest gross business during the month of October it has enjoyed yet in the entire history of the organization. We simply could not remember how depressed business was. There was no trick or magic about it.

Surely all the good breaks were not on our side, and any other forms of business can do the same. If trade is below par it is the time to promote, promote, promote. An automobile that is going well does not particularly need to be pushed. But one that is stuck in a mudhole needs a strong shoulder to the wheel.

Above all keep your money working, producing and providing business for others. Only old ladies and infants should be advised to keep it sleeping in safe securities.

The business is here and now for those who go after it. It is only the timid and the inactive who are going to the wall.

—Bath County Enterprise.

Why Organization?

Organization in every phase of human activity has become the accepted way of living now-a-days, but the past week in Appomattox with its two farm meetings, one to organize marketing, the other to organize crop production, with the Red Cross drive under way, the clinic organized for health, the promise of a union service of the churches with plans to formulate plans for a more intensified organization of charity, and a parent-teachers meeting scheduled besides, might cause us to ask, if we had time to pause in the midst of all this systemization, just where this organization mania is heading and what it accomplishes.

So much have mass meetings, conventions, and conferences become a part of our daily routine, it is truly remarkable that we are able to start out day without first holding a general discussion on which is the wrong side of the bed, or a topic of similar instructive value.

And yet, overorganization as present day communities must at times with their thousand and one different activities ready to usurp our time, when we question where to start eliminating, there are few which we are willing to sacrifice.

The worth of organization lies not only in the mutual good which the organized derive from the exchange of opinions and experiences, but also in the incentive it gives us to seek improved methods of living.

One of the most outstanding examples of constructive work done by an organization in this community is the program carried out by the Agricultural Advisory Council, of the county. The projects sponsored by this group are not only instructive, but more than that, are very definite builders of prosperity.

All efficiency, and in this day efficiency has become an ultimate goal, must of necessity involve complication. The binder is more intricate than the scythe. Organized living at times may be burdensome, but nothing is accomplished without effort.

Gloom Or Prosperity
With only a limited business experience we are becoming firmly convinced that nine-tenths of conditions in business that represent depression or its opposite, prosperity, are purely psychological.

An example that comes close home may serve as an illustration. The Enterprise did the largest gross business during the month of October it has enjoyed yet in the entire history of the organization. We simply could not remember how depressed business was. There was no trick or magic about it.

Surely all the good breaks were not on our side, and any other forms of business can do the same. If trade is below par it is the time to promote, promote, promote. An automobile that is going well does not particularly need to be pushed. But one that is stuck in a mudhole needs a strong shoulder to the wheel.

Above all keep your money working, producing and providing business for others. Only old ladies and infants should be advised to keep it sleeping in safe securities.

The business is here and now for those who go after it. It is only the timid and the inactive who are going to the wall.

—Bath County Enterprise.

Why Organization?

Organization in every phase of human activity has become the accepted way of living now-a-days, but the past week in Appomattox with its two farm meetings, one to organize marketing, the other to organize crop production, with the Red Cross drive under way, the clinic organized for health